URGENT APPEAL FOR EARTHQUAKE VICTIMS

As you know, a massive earthquake struck Southeast Asia on October 8th, 2005. The level of devastation and loss of life have made this the worst natural disaster in the history of Pakistan. It is feared that more than 40,000 people have lost their lives, many more are missing, and millions – millions – of individuals and families are homeless.

Heavy rains and hailstorms have made search and rescue operations complicated. People are sleeping in the open, with no food, no water and no shelter. Hospitals are overwhelmed by injured people seeking emergency care. Aftershocks continue to be felt throughout the country, causing weakened structures to finally collapse.

The Human Development Foundation has worked in the most remote areas of Pakistan for the last seven years, and is ready and able to provide:
